

"Although COVID-19 is a risk that occurs in many workplaces, it is not an occupational hazard in most. COVID-19 can and does spread at home, in schools, during sporting events, and everywhere else that people gather. That kind of universal risk is no different from the day-to-day dangers that all face from crime, air pollution, or any number of communicable diseases." (page 6, US Supreme Court OSHA 13/Jan/22.)

number8.org.nz

Hey Boss, the U.S. Supreme Court, said that I could catch Covid from anywhere, not just at work.

The U.S. Supreme Court? In January of 2022? That's last year! Wow, are our leaders unable to sensibly read anything anymore?

No, I just think they watch TV. I watch TeeVee. Whatcha reading for anyhoways? Everything's just on TeeVee nowadays, stoopid! We got ourselves a reader!

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21a244_hgci.pdf