

Lawyer, Sue Grey had complaints the she was putting the government's C19 response at risk. She won her case by getting the charges struck out, and even a lawyer has a right to freedom of speech.

<https://www.justice.govt.nz/assets/Documents/Decisions/2023-NZLCDT-33-Nelson-Standards-Committee-v-Grey.pdf>

number8.org.nz

Hey, I asked HR person this: there's a man wearing a dress and he's cleaning in the ladies toilets. Is that ok?

Apparently the HR business partner said it's ok. Did these people even go to law school? How would lawyers even say something like that?

Lawyers are supposed to know about rights, freedoms and protections. Those lawyer pussies who believed the government vaccination for work propaganda will be looking for new jobs soon.

